Written Statement of Reasons for Detention

I find that the accusations in the indictment and the information provided in the pretrial services report and at the detention hearing establish by a preponderance of the evidence that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required.

I conclude that the following factors specified in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) are present and are to be taken into account:

1. Defendant is a 54 year old U.S. citizen born in Los Angeles, California. His father is deceased, his mother lives in Los Angeles, and he has no siblings. He currently does not have a permanent address. He has been divorced 3 times, and has three children ages 31, 20, and 17. He reports employment as an entertainment promoter, but has been incarcerated for 22 months and is currently unemployed. His projected release date is November 8, 2010.
2. Defendant has a criminal history that includes multiple convictions for writing checks with insufficient funds and grand theft, and a prior federal felony conviction for bank fraud. He has previously been held in violation of parole.
3. Defendant has been charged with bank fraud and credit card fraud in violation of 18 U.S.C. §§ 1029 and 2, and 1344. The charges against Defendant have a potential penalty of up to 10 years in prison.
4. Defendant has no financial ties to the community. He has no residence. He has a history of fraud and noncompliance with court orders.
5. There is no condition or combination of conditions of release which would assure the appearance of the defendant in court. Detention is ordered.

Directions Regarding Detention

It is therefore ORDERED that the defendant is committed to the custody of the Attorney General or his designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility shall deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with all court proceedings.
